TITLE:	SEYMOUR WEISS EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AWARD
EFFECTIVE DATE:	March 24, 2009* (*Title Update 9/28/17; Form Addition/ Title Update 2-13-12; Legislative Update effective 8/15/10: Act 521 of Louisiana Legislature Regular Session 2010)
CANCELLATION:	AA-2230.1D (2/20/01)
CATEGORY:	Academic (AA)

POLICY STATEMENT

Contingent upon availability of outside funds, the Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award is presented annually to a faculty member of Delgado Community College. Faculty members are nominated and the recipient is selected following the criteria and procedures outlined in this memorandum.

PROCEDURES & SPECIFIC INFORMATION

1. Purpose

To recognize faculty members for distinguished teaching at Delgado Community College.

2. Scope and Applicability

This policy and procedures memorandum applies to full-time teaching faculty members at Delgado Community College.

3. Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award

The Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award is the College's most prestigious award presented to a faculty member. The recipient receives a gold lapel pin, an embossed plaque, a certificate of excellence, and a monetary award. The faculty member's monetary award is funded through a permanent endowed trust fund, the Delgado Community College

Seymour Weiss Endowed Professorship. This endowment is made possible through the Board of Regents' Louisiana Education Quality Support Fund (LEQSF) program and is jointly funded by the LEQSF and the Delgado Community College Foundation Seymour Weiss Trust Fund. In addition, all Excellence in Teaching nominees have first preference for funding to attend the current year's National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD) Conference.

4. Nomination Criteria

To be eligible for the Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award, a candidate must:

- A. Have been a full-time, regular faculty member of Delgado Community College (or the former Louisiana Technical College Region 1) for at least four (4) consecutive years when nominated.
- B. Provide classroom instruction for at least 60% of his/her full-time assignment for the past four years at the College (or the former Louisiana Technical College Region 1), provided that half (20%) of the 40% released time must be teaching-related and not administrative. For example, this includes, but is not limited to, faculty members who are involved in Title III, Fielding courses, clinicals/practicums, Quality Matters, and theater or newspaper production, etc. An explanation for other interruptions in teaching service must be accompanied by well-documented evidence. Such interruptions may not exceed one year.
- C. Not have been a recipient of the award during the prior five (5) years.

5. Nominating Procedure

- A. On the date specified in the timeline, the list of potential candidates is circulated by the Dean of the academic division. Those wishing to decline should make it known to the Dean of the academic division before the process continues.
- B. Consistent with the criteria defined in "5C" below, City Park Campus nominates faculty members for each academic division represented on the campus to include Jefferson Site and Sidney Collier Site. Charity School of Nursing and West Bank Campus nominate faculty at large, one per twenty (20) eligible faculty, for a maximum of two (2).

- C. Faculty members in each academic division (as defined in “5B” above) nominate one (1) candidate from that division for the Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award; academic divisions having more than twenty (20) potential candidates are permitted two (2) nominees. The nominating procedure is determined by the faculty of each division.
- D. The Dean of the academic division must:
- (1) ensure that a fair and systematic method is used to determine the nominees. (The Dean of the academic division and a faculty member tally the votes.)
 - (2) ascertain acceptance of the nomination and inform those who decline that they are eligible to participate in the luncheon, which recognizes those nominated, but are not eligible for further activities related to the award [including National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD) Conference] for the current year.
 - (3) forward to the Committee Chair the name and original of Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award Nomination Acceptance Form, Form 2230/001 of the faculty member in the division who has been nominated and has accepted the nomination (i.e., has submitted an award nomination acceptance form and has agreed to complete the application process) for the award.
-  = Or the appropriate campus/site administrator or designee, as appointed by the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.
- E. To be considered for the award and participate in further activities related to the award [including National Institute for Staff and Organizational Development (NISOD) Conference] for the current year, nominees must:
- (1) Submit a Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award Nomination Acceptance Form, Form 2230/001 to the Division Dean.
 - (2) Compile, in cooperation with the Dean of the academic division, a packet containing the following information.
 - a. Vita or resume.
 - b. Student evaluations. (from the last three years)
 - c. Colleague recommendations. (maximum of five)
 - d. Supervisor evaluations. (minimum three years to include the most recent)
 - e. Dean of the academic division’s letter of support, if appropriate.
 - (3) Submit packet to the Excellence in Teaching Award Committee Chair.

6. Selection CriteriaA. Primary Criterion: Exemplary Classroom Instruction

Exemplary classroom instruction can be identified by the extent to which the instructor manifests the art and science of teaching. The art of teaching requires energy, enthusiasm, commitment and personal discipline. Exemplary teaching means caring for and being knowledgeable of both the student taught and the material to be learned.

Exemplary classroom instruction involves dialogue between teacher and learner in which teacher, learner and the material taught and learned are transformed. Exemplary teachers are recognized and admired for their mastery of the art, the techniques, and the forms of teaching.

B. Related Criteria

- (1) Competence in subject matter or discipline.
- (2) Academic and/or professional preparation.
- (3) Peer recognition.
- (4) Service to the discipline or field of study.
- (5) Productive student contact outside the classroom.

7. Evaluation of Nominees

The evaluation of nominees is threefold: by students; by colleagues within the College and within the collegial and/or professional community at large, and by Deans of the academic divisions.

A. Student Evaluations: 35% of Total Evaluation

Each nominee submits all student evaluations for the last three years prior to and including the current year. Letters of recommendation from students may be included.

B. Colleague Recommendations: 35% of Total Evaluation

Candidates submit letters of recommendation from no more than five colleagues. Candidates should consider colleagues within their division, within the College, and within the collegial or professional community at large.

C. Dean of the academic division's Evaluation: 30% of Total Evaluation

The nominee's Dean of the academic division evaluates the nominee. Evaluations from the last three years are a minimum requirement. In addition, the current Dean of the division submits a letter of support, if appropriate.

8. Selection Process

An Excellence in Teaching Award Committee composed of full-time faculty members of Delgado Community College is appointed each fall to serve for the academic year. The function of this committee is to review information furnished on each nominee and to select and recommend the faculty member to receive the Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award.

The Committee's recommendation for the Seymour Weiss Excellence in Teaching Award is forwarded to the Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs who submits it to the Chancellor for final approval.
