POLICY STATEMENT

In accordance with the Louisiana Board of Regents Endowed Professorships policy, Delgado Community College has instituted an Endowed Professorship Award program. This program is a major effort by which the College, the Delgado Community College Foundation, and the community demonstrate their commitment to quality instruction by recognizing and fostering faculty excellence.

The Board of Regents Endowed Professorship Program was established in 1990-1991 "to recruit superior new faculty and/or to retain faculty whose research, teaching and/or public service have contributed to the mission of their departments and institutions." The objectives of this program are "to enhance the quality of higher education and to promote the economic development of Louisiana."

To accomplish this mission, the Louisiana Board of Regents Endowed Professorship program has guaranteed a support fund--the Louisiana Education Quality Support Fund (LEQSF). This fund provides for a state match of $40,000 in Support Fund dollars to colleges and universities that provide $60,000 in private money. Income generated (i.e., interest, earnings income) from each professorship endowment is specifically designated to the person holding the professorship position. The intent of the program is to provide outstanding faculty members with a salary supplement and an increased opportunity for professional development.

Under Louisiana Board of Regents guidelines, Delgado can apply for the establishment of two endowed professorships each year. The procedures for awarding endowed professorships to qualified faculty members are outlined in detail in this memorandum.

PROCEDURES & SPECIFIC INFORMATION

1. Purpose

To establish criteria and procedures for the awarding of endowed professorships.

2. Scope and Applicability

This policy and procedures memorandum applies to the recruitment and retention of full-time teaching faculty members at Delgado Community College.

3. Goals

The goals of the Delgado Community College Endowed Professorship Award are to encourage, promote, and reward:

- Excellence in innovation, scholarship and instruction that have a direct effect on student outcomes;
- Exceptional contributions of faculty to the academic discipline, the College (or former college/university for recruited faculty), and the community it serves; and
- Collaboration with College (or former college/university for recruited faculty) staff, business and industry, and the community to align programs with industry needs and standards.

4. Eligibility

To be eligible to apply for an endowed professorship award, a current or potential faculty member must meet the following criteria:

- Hold faculty rank. Current Delgado faculty must be at the rank of instructor or above, and in at least his/her third year of full-time service at that rank at the College.
- Have full-time teaching responsibilities at the College or his/her respective college or university. Program heads and coordinators in the various academic divisions and majors with no more than 60% released time are eligible for selection.
- Generally, faculty within the academic division or major for which the endowed professorship award is designated (by the donor) are eligible to apply. However, under exceptional circumstances, the appropriate Endowed Professorship Selection Committee may decide to grant the award to a faculty member outside the division who can demonstrate the benefits of their proposal to the division or major awarding the professorship.

- In a case in which the donor of the endowed professorship award places restrictions that conflict with these eligibility criteria, the procedures will be modified to be consistent with the donor's restrictions or the donation will be rejected, at the discretion of the College.
