Important Information on the Data in this Report

The data in this report came from 2 separate surveys. One being the CCSSE survey that the students filled out, the other being the CCFSSSE, the survey the faculty filled out.

Although the questions are the same, the methodology for collecting the data was different for the two surveys. One should keep these differences in mind when viewing the results.

The CCSSE student survey used a random sample of students to fill out the survey. The CCFSSSE was voluntary and all faculty were invited to participate.

The faculty survey had an additional answer (Don't know). In this comparison, this answer was factored out, to make the comparison meaningful.

Despite the differences in the two surveys, the comparison in this report is thought provoking. In some cases the difference in perception between faculty and students is quite large.
